My best thanks are due to R. Masujima Esq. This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works. ...more.

Transactions, Vol. X S S V I . vo1. On pp. 590 sqq. we read about foxes taking the shape of Buddhas or ~odiisattva, just as the Tengu of Japan did in olden times ; and on pp. 593 scl. n~entionis made of a ?trysterious pearl which were-foxes are believed to possess and which probably represents their soul. They hold this pearl in their mouths, and any man who gets possession of it becomes a favourite of the whole world. This book may have occasional imperfections such as missing or blurred pages, poor pictures, errant marks, etc. that were either part of the original artifact, or were introduced by the scanning process. We believe this work is culturally important, and despite the imperfections, have elected to bring it back into print as part of our continuing commitment to the preservation of printed works worldwide. We appreciate your understanding of the imperfections in the preservation process, and hope you enjoy this valuable book. +++ This data is provided as an additional tool in helping to ensure edition identification: ++++ Transactions Of The Asiatic Society Of Japan, Volumes 28-30 Asiatic Society of Japan The Society, 1900 Japan.
