An annotated bibliography gives an account of the research that has been done on a given topic. Like any bibliography, an annotated bibliography is an alphabetical list of research sources. In addition to bibliographic data, an annotated bibliography provides a concise summary of each source and some assessment of its value or relevance. Depending on your assignment, an annotated bibliography may be one stage in a larger research project, or it may be an independent project standing on its own. What is an annotated bibliography? Cornell University describes it as "a list of citations to books, articles, and documents. Each citation is followed by a brief (usually about 150 words) descriptive and evaluative paragraph, the annotation." We will write a custom essay specifically for you for only $16.05 $11/page Learn More. If this sounds boring, you may want to use academic essay services and buy annotated bibliography to never worry about it (and all you have to do is contact Custom Writing). An annotated bibliography or annotated bib is a bibliography (a list of books or other works) that includes descriptive and evaluative comments about the sources cited in your paper. These comments are also known as annotations. How do I format my annotated bibliography? An annotated bibliography entry consists of two components: the Citation and the Annotation. * * How to Prepare an Annotated Bibliography Concordia University Libraries <http://library.concordia.ca/help/howto/annotatedbibliog.php>.
