Congressional Hearing Held: 2000-07-25. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, Washington, DC. The Committee met, pursuant to notice, at 10:16 a.m., in room 2172, Rayburn House Office Building, Hon. Doug Bereuter pre- siding. Mr. BEREUTER. The Committee will be in order. Today we hold the first of two hearings on the International Criminal Court. Supporters of the International Criminal Court claim that the Administration should have overlooked the flaws in the Rome Statute creating the Court. The United States Congress or U.S. Congress is the bicameral legislature of the federal government of the United States and consists of the House of Representatives and the Senate. The Congress meets in the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C. Both senators and representatives are chosen through direct election, though vacancies in the Senate may be filled by a governor's appointment. Congress has 535 voting members: 100 senators and 435 representatives, the latter defined by the Reapportionment Hearings before the Committee on International Relations, House of Representatives, One Hundred Sixth Congress, second session, July 25 and 26, 2000.
