

Fly Like a Superhero?: And Other Questions about Movement | 9781593890780 | Sally Hewitt | Chrysalis Education, 2004 | 2004

The key question is: is the activity designed to improve accuracy or fluency? With controlled grammar and vocabulary activities, where the emphasis is on the accurate production of a particular language point, it's best to correct all mistakes, and to do so immediately you hear them. Work on the pronunciation of the questions. Play each one several times and ask students to repeat chorally and individually, paying attention to the following features: Each question is one tone unit, which means it should be pronounced 'like one word', without stopping: 'How/dareyou?' (it is not necessary to teach students the term 'tone unit'). In each question there is a stressed word - the one that carries the key meaning: What's your name? How old are you?
